The Americans went out early in the evening and nothing further was heard from them until another patrol happened to cross the spot where the others had been ambushed. Not one shot was fired during the encounter as far as is known.

With the British Army in France, May 9.—Fighting was still in progress this morning near Vierstraet, on the front southwest of Ypres. At one time the British were forced back slightly by the machine gun fire of the enemy. All the rest of the original defenses, however, appears to be again in the hands of the defenders in the LaClytte-Voormezeele sector.

Paris, May 9.—Heavy artillery fighting on both sides of the Aisne river on the front below Amiens is reported in today's official communication.

London, May 9.—By a counter attack delivered last night by the British troops, the Germans were driven from the portions of the allied front line which they had entered on the Flanders front in the LaClytte-Voormezeele sector, the war office announced today.

(By Associated Press)

London, May 9.—Further progress was made last night by the British troops on the front east of Amiens between the Somme and Ancre rivers. Yesterday's attacks on the Flanders line were carried out by two German divisions, and heavy casualties were inflicted upon them by the British forces.

24 COTTAGES BURNED AT WESTPORT, ME.

(By Associated Press)

Westport, Me., May 9.—The forest fire which spread over the south end of Westport last night causing damage estimated at $200,000, was under control today.

The people who had tried all night to keep the fire from spreading to the more thickly settled portion were kept busy as it broke out anew in different sections of the fire zone. There was great loss of cottages which were owned mostly by residents from other states. Of twenty-four buildings burned, two-thirds were cottages valued at from $3,000 to $15,000. There was also a heavy loss of spruce and pine timber.

The fire is said to have been started by a match accidentally dropped by a workman engaged in setting up a portable sawmill.

MORE THAN HALF A MILLION TROOPS IN FRANCE

Sec. Baker Claims His Forecast For Troops Taken Across Comes True--
Charges No Shortage of Light and Heavy Machine Guns

(By Associated Press)
Washington, May 8.—More than half a million American troops have been sent to France, Secretary of War Baker forecast early in January that early in the year over a half a million men would be sent across has been carried out, Secretary Baker told the House Military committee today. It later dictated a statement to the effect that in January I told the Senate Committee that it was likely that at least half a million men would be in France early in the year. I can not tell now or possibly will not be able to discuss the actual number of men, but will say that it is over a half a million.

As a result of a personal investigation on the report of a delay in securing the Browning light and heavy machine guns Secretary Baker said that there was no shortage of light and heavy machine guns in this country and in France and England.

U. S. ACCEPTS GERMANY'S CHALLENGE

(By Associated Press)
Washington, May 8.—In defiance of the German submarines the United States is sending grain to Switzerland aboard armed ships under heavy naval convoys prepared to fight their way through the danger zones. Two grain ships left an Atlantic port some time ago, two more sailed last week and others will go soon.
The decision to supply Switzerland immediately without awaiting the expiration of the three months time limit set by Germany for notifying her submarine commanders that vessels carrying the supplies must not be molested, was first announced in Berlin. Officials today explained that it was made owing to the critical food situation in the Republic.
A supply of grain was set apart for Switzerland some months ago, but Germany refused to grant safe conduct to ships transporting it if they flew the American flag. Finally they agreed to let the ships go through, but declined to guarantee their safety until all submarine commanders had been notified, which it was claimed would require three months.
The Swiss food situation had become so serious the State Department decided to proceed immediately with shipments. In making this decision officials recalled that in the past German safe conduct assurances had not always guaranteed the safety of vessels.

Under the German safe conduct arrangement the grain ships were to fly both the American and the Swiss flags, touching only at Cote, the French port turned over to the Swiss. When the Germans refused to guarantee safe conduct until three months had elapsed, the United States decided to send the vessels forward flying only the American flag and touching at any convenient French port.

GERMAN SPIES CAUGHT IN FRONT LINES

(By Associated Press)
With the American Army in France by the Associated Press, May 8.—The first German spy to be caught in the ranks of the U. S. troops was arrested here today behind the American lines. The charges are that he acted as a German prisoner of escape. They made their way into the lines from the rear donning U. S. officer's uniforms. They made their way into the front lines and under the pretense that they were to use the big tanks they would make an investigation. They then wanted to walk outside of the lines, but the Captain was more than equal to them and he placed them under arrest and sent them to the rear.

A WARM DAY IN HISTORY

Doston, May 8, 1918.
Dear Mr. Editor:—
Tonight we are told that this has been the hottest May 6 in the history of the local weather bureau, the mercury climbing to 89 degrees at 2 o'clock. To this I reply that May 6, 1865, was the warmest day I ever knew, with the mercury at 104 in the shade at noon. With my regiment, the 15th New York, I was marching through Richmond, Va., on that day, headed for Washington and home.

At daybreak we had sent the wagons, loaded with our heavy equipment, to the late Confederate Capital, and although we went through the city in "light marching order" we suffered more intensely from the heat than upon any other day while we were in the service.
For the possible benefit of your readers likely to be interested in a little Civil War story permit me to suggest that the May 6 paragraph be considered a sort of preamble or foreword.

After a forced march of about a week, beginning toward the end of April, we went into camp in a cornfield at the close of the afternoon of May 3, understanding that we were to remain there sufficiently long for a reasonable rest. To our dismay, however, we were routed out at 3 o'clock on the morning of May 4th. It was "as dark as Egypt" and the rain descended in cloudburst fashion. Obviously making fires and starting off with hot coffee was entirely out of the question. But, with all of our discomfiting environment, we were under way before daybreak over a highway which seemed made up of mud puddles and boulders. All day we trudged along on a menu of pork, hard tack and a mixture of coffee and cold water until 7 p. m. when we turned into a field at our left for rest and refreshment. Fortunately the rain ceased before night and we were able to find a small supply of branches, chips etc., for a few fires and were thus enabled to have the first hot drink we had enjoyed for more than twenty-four hours. After supper while we were resting we were informed by Col. Brainerd that if we would start off at 3 a. m. after a two hours' rest, and march all night, we would enter Richmond ahead of the Fifth Corps and be provided with transportation to Washington. Therefore at 3 o'clock sharp the bugle sounded "fall in" and soon thereafter we were off. About 11 o'clock we saw the lights of the Fifth Corps ahead of us, the corps having encamped on both sides of the road which passed directly through the heart of the encampment. We moved along as noiselessly as that Yankee phantom army about which Von Moltke spoke, but after passing safely through we let the boys of the Fifth know that we had beaten them. From that time onward we moved along automatically, fully half asleep, until daylight, when we entered Manchester, of South Richmond. We halted a few minutes in the main street and then moved back to the outskirts for a twenty-four hours' rest, which we sorely needed. The next morning we were awake long before reveille, and after breakfast and packing up we crossed the James river on a pontoon bridge, turned to the right up Carey street, parallel with the river, passed the noted Confederate prisons, Castle Thunder on the left, lobby on the right, then turned into the main street of Richmond, were reviewed by Generals Meade and Halleck, and

You begin to suffer from dizziness, sick headaches, nausea, and often complete prostration during an attack. You lack ambition and feel worn out. Get Ready for Arbor Day.

Governor Kéyes has designated Friday, May 17, as Arbor Day, and it remains for the people of the state to make the day what it ought to be. If they do this it will be an occasion of pleasure and profit to old and young.

The governor outlines briefly what should be done on Arbor Day. He advises the planting of trees and the improvement of orchards, groves and woodlands, and the imparting of knowledge regarding these things to all that can be reached, particularly the school children. He would have impressed upon all the importance of trees in the nation's industrial economy, how they may be planted and grown, and would make every one acquainted with their value to the community and to their individual owners.

This is a sensible program and one that the people of New Hampshire can carry out, if they will, with profit to the state as a whole and to its many communities, large and small.

This paper recently had something to say on the subject of reforestation, pointing out how woodlands that have been cut over can be improved and made more valuable than ever before by stocking them with the right kinds of trees.

But Arbor Day is not primarily for the work of reforestation, important as that is. It is intended rather as a time when the people should give attention to the beautification of their homes, the streets, school grounds, public parks and cemeteries by planting trees, shrubs and vines in places that are now vacant, so that in the years to come there may be beauty in the place of barrenness.

The work is one in which old and young should take part, and there should be a community effort in addition to what may be done by individuals on their own premises. Shade trees should be planted along streets and roads where there are none, and there are few school grounds and parks where there is not room for something more in the line of trees and shrubbery. If the people of the towns and cities would turn out on Arbor Day and do what can easily be done at practically no expense a great change for the better would be wrought in virtually every community in the state.

It would be well if the people of New Hampshire would resolve to do this. The great danger is that too many will leave the work for others to do, being intent upon their private affairs or indifferent to the importance of the thing proposed. Arbor Day, properly observed, is one of the most profitable days of the year for any community, and the extra cares and labors caused by the war should not be permitted to prevent its full and proper observance in New Hampshire this year.

Automobile sleazing has begun early this year and promises to be very troublesome unless drastic penalties are imposed upon the thieves convicted. It is humiliating to know that some men in the service of the country are not above such miserable business, but the arrest and confession of two such young men in this city the other night shows that there are black sheep among the soldiers as well as elsewhere. But, happily, they are the exception and not the rule.

The Portsmouth war gardeners, in common with those in all parts of New England and the country, are preparing for the season's campaign. The weather for the past few days has reminded them that the time for action is at hand and many are already making the dirt fly. May nature smile upon their efforts and give them a better season than they had last year.

Parisians are reported to be "digging in" as a protection against German long-range guns, and at the same time comes news that German war prisoners in Georgia have been trying to dig out, a fifty foot tunnel having been discovered a few days ago leading from the prison camp. The Germans need sharp watching whether they are at the front or in the rear.

Wellesley College will omit the usual commencement festivities this year and devote the fund set aside for the purpose to war uses. This means a real sacrifice for the 300 members of the graduating class, to whose patriotism and spirit of helpfulness the act will stand as a monument through all the coming years.

Now the High School is preparing to unfurl a service flag, and there is every reason why it should. A school that has 63 alumni in the service of the country has something to be proud of, and it is proper that a handsome service flag should tell the patriotic story.

Ex-President Taft is attracting much favorable attention by his earnest and able efforts in behalf of the war. And no one has yet suspected him of laying wires for the Republican nomination for the presidency in 1920.

WANT TO INCREASE THE TROLLEY FARE

Trolley riding from Haverhill to Lawrence by persons desiring to "get a drink" resulted in a material addition to the revenue of the Massachusetts Northern Street Railroad Company, President David Holden of the company told the Public Service Commission yesterday during the consideration of the application of the company for an increase in fares.

Now that Haverhill is to be licensed and with an increase in the general expenses, the company asks that it be allowed to advance its fares from the five-cent and six-cent that basis now charged for two zones or less, and an additional 2-3 cents for every added zone.

The proposed fare changes do not affect traffic on the Hampton Beach or Canobie Lake lines.

Who Said Efficiency

(From the New York World) Having broken to the Prussian work regimen the Kaiser's pledge of equal suffrage, the Diet plans to send the workman to jail if he does not value his half-vote enough to cast it. "Prussian" means thorough.

Triumphs of the Great Drive

(From the New York World) The German drive is not resultless. Mr. Lloyd George has pointed out two triumphs. It "accelerated the advent of American troops" and "made unity of commands at last a reality." By no means barren of achievement!

WAR DONT'S

(By Jane Dransfield of The Vigilantes.) Don't sit down and wish the war were over. Start out and work to get it over. Don't be discouraged. Faith is not a sentiment, but an act of will. Don't criticize unless your criticism is constructive, and will help. Don't listen to what ex-President Taft calls "whispering traitors." Don't grumble at being asked to do something you have never done before. Fall into line. Don't forget that we are fighting for light, and therefore must win. Insist in your morning prayer the new immortal words, "They Shall Not Pass!"

NOTES FROM THE NEWINGTON SHIP PLANT

General Manager George S. Howins has returned from Vermont where he was called by the death of a relative.

Cottage owners along the river have received a request to rent their cottages for ship yard workers. This move started a rumor that the government was going to commandeered these cottages. While the government can do this, no orders have been received.

The workmen were glad to hear of the successful launching at Portland on Wednesday. Now it is up to the men here to get busy.

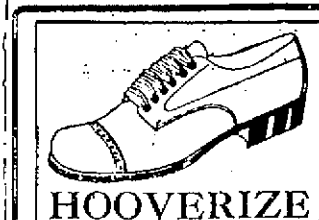

The men are delighted with the living in the tents and this means of temporary housing will be enlarged. Charles W. Andrews of Portsmouth has been added to the guard force.

FOREST FIRE IN NORTHERN NEW HAMPSHIRE

Greenville, N. H., May 9.—A forest fire which started here Tuesday was still spreading Wednesday. Seven hundred acres, on which were a number of farm buildings, a large quantity of cut lumber and much standing timber, already have been burned over. Business in this and surrounding towns was practically suspended on Tuesday while men and boys joined with regular firemen in fighting the flames.

ASQUITH MAKES A DENIAL

(By Associated Press)

London, May 9.—In the house of commons today former Premier Asquith denied the motion respecting the Maurice's affair was designed to obtain the vote of censure of the government saying it was absurd to describe it as such.

Offering a motion for the assignment of the committee to investigate the charges made by Gen. Maurice, Mr. Asquith said he thought it was not the business of Parliament to interfere into the conduct of successive failures of the war.

WEAK KIDNEYS MEAN A WEAK BODY

When you're fifty, your body begins to break a little at the hinges. Motion is more slow and deliberate. "Not so young as I used to be," is a frequent and unwelcome thought. Certain bodily functions upon which good health and good spirits so much depend, are impaired. The weak spot is generally the bladder. Unpleasant symptoms show themselves. Painful and annoying complications in other organs arise. This is particularly true with elderly people. If you only know how, this trouble can be obviated.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL, Haarslem Oil has been relieving the inconvenience and pain due to advancing years. It is a standard, old-time home remedy, and needs no introduction. It is now put up in odorless, tasteless capsules. These are easier and more pleasant to take than the oil in bottles. Each capsule contains about one dose of five drops. Take them just like you would any pill, with a small swallow of water. They soak into the system and throw off the poisons which are making you old before your time. They will quickly relieve those stiffened joints, that backache, rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, gall-stones, gravel, "stitch-dust," etc. They are an effective remedy for all diseases of the bladder, kidney, liver, stomach and allied organs.

Go to your druggist today and get a box of GOLD MEDAL, Haarslem Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. Three sizes, GOLD MEDAL, are the pure, original import of Haarslem Oil Capsules. Accept no substitutes.

WILL SPEAK HERE.

The Federal Food Administration has assigned for the meeting to be held in Music Hall in this city on Monday evening next, a woman of remarkable personality and unusual ability as a speaker, Mrs. Beatrice Forbes Robertson Hale, The Federal Food Administrator for the State of New Hampshire. Mr. Huntley N.

Spaulding, will be the presiding officer, and a young man who made an enviable record as an orator in the last session of the Legislature, and on the platform in the Liberty Loan drive, Mr. William N. Rogers, will also give an address. The meeting promises to be of unusual interest and a very large attendance is expected. One of the best bands in the city will be in attendance.

BRUSH FIRES NUMEROUS ON THE RAILROAD

Section Hands Called to Fight
Blaze in Five Different Places.

Brush fires on the Portland division of the Boston and Maine kept several section crews on the jump on Wednesday. The first call was for a blaze near the overhead bridge of the south end division on the Greenland road; the second near the Elliot depot; the third at North Berwick; the fourth at Kennebunk and the fifth at Mt. Whittier. The last named started off the railroad property and before it was extinguished it swept over three miles of forest, destroying much valuable timber, besides threatening the town. Section hands from Scarborough and other stations on the Conway branch besides other available men in the nearby towns were called and had a hard battle with the flames. At one time it looked as if it would reach the railroad and locomotives were ordered out and coupled to all the freight cars in the Boston and Maine yard to be ready in case it was necessary to move them.

The members who are also soon to enter the service are to be entertained by the company after the flag presentation this evening.

COLLEGE GIRLS WILL FARM AT BYFIELD

South Byfield, May 9.—Radcliffe girls will earn their daily bread this summer by patriotic farming. In squads of fifteen they will do their educated bit to raise corn, beans and potatoes for the next winter's consumption. Ezra H. Baker, treasurer of the college, announced at a mass meeting that arrangements had been made for the girls to work the farm connected with Dummer academy at South Byfield. The planting and harvesting will be done by the boys of the school.

The Radcliffe girls will arrive in the middle of June and work until the middle of September. Ten acres will be devoted to the cultivation of corn, beans and potatoes, the product to be equally divided between Dummer Academy and the Radcliffe college dormitories. A small plot will be reserved for the girls' own crops.

On this, they may raise radishes and lettuce, vegetables for canning, or anything, except weeds. The girls will live in one of the academy dormitories in charge of a supervisor. Recruiting in charge of Missella King, '79, of Quincy has begun with enthusiasm. Preference is given to girls who will remain at the farm the entire summer.

GARDNER A CLEVER WRESTLER

The wrestling match this evening between Bill Dryden and Pinky Gardner should be the best of the season. Gardner is reported by all of the sport writers as one of the cleverest men in the country, a wrestler who knows every turn of the game and a wonderful athlete.

He is not of the rough neck type of John Kilgus but in all of his matches with Kilgus, and he has defeated him twice, he took care of the Greek in fine style, although the matches generally went over an hour and one went two hours.

In Dryden he will meet a more powerful man than Kilgus, and just as good a man in every way with the added advantage of weight. Dryden has had a considerable rest but this week he has been working out in preparation for the match and he should be in the pink of condition. It will apparently be a match well worth going to see and possibly the last of the season unless Dryden can induce Kilgus to come back for a match.

BREAKING UP NAVY BALL TEAM

Boston, May 8.—The Boston navy ball team, which received a body blow today when orders were issued from the office of Rear Admiral Wood, commanding the district, which directed the following named from the team, transferred them from the command of Captain Rush and sent them in haste to the enrolling office in the Little Building for further orders.

Marysville, McNally, Pennock, Will and Callahan and Gainer. The team was having its regular morning practice at the stadium when the orders were received. They were ordered to report to the enrolling office before noon. Several days ago, orders came from Washington, following an exchange of communications between the district commandant and the department, which authorized the detachment of baseball players as they became available for sea duty on other date was set. Admiral Wood's order today hit the team as a surprise.

Regarding his position on naval athletics Admiral Wood said today: "I have a policy and a well defined policy in regard to baseball matters as well as in other sports in the first naval district, and my policy is the same as the department's, that all athletic contests shall be kept free from professionalism and in the ranks of amateurism." Continuing the admiral said that the department is opposed to charging an admission fee where any navy teams are engaged in playing, and that the department is also opposed to the taking of collections, except where the entire proceeds go to a service fund, and are not to be divided, or that the navy teams play for a certain percentage of the receipts which in some instances might amount to only 10.

BASE BALL FOR THE RED CROSS

The Portsmouth picked up base ball team made short work of the team from the navy yard on Wednesday evening in a game for the benefit of the Red Cross.

There was a large crowd turned out and the young lady collectors did a good business so that a neat sum will be turned over to the Red Cross. The base ball game was not one of the most interesting. The locals got to Thronson who was on the slab and this coupled with his ragged support from the infield, resulted in the locals placing the game on ice early in the dispute. The final score was Portsmouth 14, Navy Yard 1.

The Naval Band took part, playing for the parade to the ground and giving a short concert before the game. The game was arranged by Manager W. P. Woods of the P. A. C.

DANCING PARTY FOR THE SAILORS

A dancing party for the Starboard division of the U. S. S. Pueblo given under the auspices of the Postoffice Commission, was held on Wednesday evening at the Armory and there was a good attendance.

The music was furnished by the ship's orchestra and the grand march led by Captain and Mrs. Williams. Next Monday evening the same kind of a dance will be held for the Port Watch.

WILL WAIT FOR U. S. MILLIONS

London, May 8.—The Anglo-French front in France will stand firm and husband its strength throughout the summer while waiting for aid to come from the United States, says Winston Spencer Churchill, Minister of Munitions. "Although the crisis is grave

TWICE PROVEN

If you suffer, backache, sleepless nights, tired dull days, and distressing urinary disorders, don't experiment. Read this twice-told testimony. It's Portsmouth's "evidence" doubly proven.

Mrs. John Smart, 123 Gates street, says: "I had sharp pains through the small of my back, which at times changed to a dull grinding ache. Whenever I exerted myself in any way the pains were more severe. I was tired all the time, lacked ambition, and in the morning always felt worse. Believing there were symptoms of kidney trouble, I tried various kidney medicines, but without getting the least benefit until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Phillips' Pharmacy. Judging from the results they have already given me, I am convinced they will cure me."

OVER FOUR YEARS LATER, Mrs. Smart said: "I still heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills very highly. They have given me permanent benefit."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Smart had. Foster-McBarn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

and will continue so for many weeks. I have profound confidence that we shall not be beaten down. The Germans are attempting to destroy our morale as well as our army, and quite as well armed. We are asking only to maintain ourselves against them, which is a very different thing. I do not believe the German reserves are sufficient for their ambitious programming. Although the German commanders declare their readiness to sacrifice a million men, or, if need be, a million and a half, the French and British armies will not be overcome. They will maintain a firm front throughout the summer, using their deadly weapons upon the German masses, and husbands, their own strength. Meanwhile, our fifth and sixth divisions are coming to our aid as fast as ships can convey them. Navy is coping with the submarines and our airmen are masters of the air in view. If we hold we win. If we win, the cruel system which let loose these horrors on the world will perish and the exactions of those who are its dupes or slaves. Then, and then only, will there be lasting peace."

FIRE DESTROYS OLD NEW HAVEN DEPOT

New Haven, May 9.—The old Union station of the N. Y., N. H., and H. railroad, recently abandoned as a passenger depot and used only for office purposes, was burned here late Wednesday. About 200 employees were in the building at the time, but all escaped. Three firemen were slightly burned. The cause of the fire has not been determined. No estimate of the loss was available last night but it was stated that it was covered by insurance.

The fire apparently started in the lower section near the clock tower and spread so rapidly that within a comparatively short time the interior had been entirely burned out and only the walls of the long three-story brick structure remained.

The station was built about 1871. Twenty-seven years ago it was unroofed by fire.

INDIANS DEDICATE A SERVICE FLAG

Coudray, Wis., May 9.—The Chippewa Indians of the Coudray reservation near here dedicated their service flag at the Indian village of Keweenaw. Attorney Silverthorne of Hayward, Dr. Carlos Montezuma of the University of Chicago, the Rev. P. A. O'Mahoney of Spooner were the speakers.

The Indians are very patriotic, giving to the Red Cross freely and doing considerable knitting for the Red Cross workers.

The service flag has over 50 stars. Most of the Indians enlisted before the war started.

GERMANS RESUME DRIVE

What possibly may be the long expected resumption of the German drive on the west front is now being played.

In front of Ypres the Germans carried on an attack against the British and French lines and at certain points on the five mile front they made some headway and penetrated the lines but over the greater portion they met with a decided repulse.

As usual the attack began after a heavy preliminary bombardment. The objective of the enemy apparently was to push forward their lines and to out-flank the British holding Ypres from the southwest. As yet only meagre accounts of the battle are known but it is said to be only divisional strength.

On the remainder of the front in Flanders and Picardy there has been heavy artillery activities but no infantry action other than raids, having been recognized.

The British have taken the town of La Clyppe and pushed back the Germans at this point while the Australians east of Amiens have taken considerable ground from the Germans.

In the Toul sector held by the Americans the American heavy artillery got into action today for the first time.

On the Mesopotamia front the British have advanced to within eighty miles of Mosul and captured the town of Kinkik which the Turks gave up without a struggle.

SOUTH ELIOT

A musical to be given, Thursday evening, May 9 at the Methodist church here and a most excellent program has been arranged for that time, consisting of piano solos, duets, violin solos, vocal solos and readings.

The W. C. T. U. of Eliot will meet with Mrs. Conlan at the Congregational vestry on Friday afternoon.

Forrest Wheeler, for several weeks employed by the Armour Beef Co. has returned to his former position as passenger trainman on the B. & M.

COTTAGES AT PEAKS ISLAND BURNED

Portland, May 9.—Nine cottages and all of the furnishings were destroyed along with 100 acres of timber land by the Wednesday on Peaks Island.

The estimated loss was $50,000. Soldiers from nearby fortifications aided by the fire boat, ocean tugs, and coast patrol boats worked for six hours to keep the flames from burning the big Knickerbocker hotel, owned by the heirs of Mrs. Mary Anderson of Brooklyn, N. Y., and while the hotel was saved, the garage and servants quarters were destroyed at a loss of $25,000.

The cottages destroyed were those owned by Arthur S. Schmitt, Frederick Ribber, Miss Frederika Parks, John Parks of Portland, Mary Griffin, South Portland, George Gatehouse, Brooklyn, N. Y., Harry Highland and John Wright of Boston.

The bigger and Gatehouse cottages were worth $3000 and $4000 respectively, and the others estimated at $2000 apiece.

About 500 soldiers from the local forts fought the blaze with shovels, brooms and axes. Thousands of feet of hose were laid by the fire boat and the coast patrol boats.

The cottages destroyed were among boomer hotels, for years an exclusive resort, is a wooden structure. Insurance covers the various losses.

WELL KNOWN FARMER DIED ON WEDNESDAY

Charles H. Hayes, Expert Agriculturist, Answers
Death's Call.

Charles Hiram Hayes died at his home on Peverly Hill road, Wednesday, May 8, aged 84 years. He was the son of Charles and Rebecca (Goodwin) Hayes, and was born at Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 13, 1834.

In the death of Charles Hiram Hayes Portsmouth loses one of her best known citizens and her best known agriculturist. Born in Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 13, 1834, the son of Charles and Rebecca (Goodwin) Hayes, he removed with his parents to this city in 1842, where he has since made his home. He made the Hayes farm one of the leading farms of the state, noted for its productive gardens and fine strain of Ayrshire cattle.

In 1853 he was united in marriage with Miss Lucy M. Sweetser, who survives him. Five children blessed this union, three of whom are now living: Charles Sweetser, H. Percival, and Mrs. Florence Cummings. He is also survived by three grandsons and two granddaughters: Mrs. Ellen M. Ham and Mrs. Jane H. Sherburne, both of this city.

Mr. Hayes was a well read, broad minded man with hosts of friends for whom he ever spoke a good word. His most marked characteristics were his love of home, love of children and animals, and his great respect for womanhood.

His illness was long and trying, but all that could be done to help him bear the burden was done by the devoted daughter with whom he has made his home since 1911 when on account of declining strength he sold his home farm.

He was a staunch Republican and had served in both branches of the city government. He was a charter member of the American Ayrshire Breeders' Association and at the time of his death honorary president of the N. E. Ayrshire Club and a director of the N. E. Agricultural Society.

QUEER ACCIDENT TO WORKMEN AT THE SHIPYARD

Block Strikes Plank, Plank
Strikes Axe and Axe Strikes
Man in the Neck.

Charles T. Jewel of Oxford, N. H., a ship carpenter employed at the Newington yard, met with a severe and peculiar accident on Wednesday afternoon just previous to the suspension of work by the day crew.

With another man he was engaged in work on ship No. 2, when a large block fell from the rigging above, dropping several feet below and striking a plank in the hands of the workmen. The block struck in such a way as to cause the plank to fly from the hands of the workmen, the end of which struck an axe which one of the men was using. This caused the sharp instrument to fly also striking Jewel in the side of the neck. The laceration required several stitches by Dr. John H. Neal at the plant emergency hospital. Jewel makes his temporary home at the plant.
